The Muddling Adventures of Prince Knud

(the quality is low because there's a lot of them. pictures that is. the low quality of the words is all my fault though.)

1067 - 1068

I'm Knud Knýtling, Prince of Denmark. I drew this myself.

Uta the Hun. My daddy searched all of Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Germany for this woman. I think she wants to encase me in carbonite. Her heraldry makes me want to separate her church and state.

Halland earns two ducats a month. For thirty-four, I'd marry a horse.

Handy, that.

It was a year and a half before she caught me.
Even lazy and sick, Knud can run fast when his wife is naked.

Your wife wants the latest fashion fad

My money is your money, darling

Only this limited allowance, darling

Let's go to the church instead, darling

Shoo, this is my money you're talking about

50% Chance:
Chancellor Uta gained the trait 'Modest'.
25% Chance:
Chancellor Uta gained the trait 'Zealous'.
5% Chance:
Chancellor Uta gained the trait 'Depression'.
Chancellor Uta lost the trait 'Stressed'.

I send all my problems to church. Because I hate God. And myself.

Cute little bugger. He's so special. I'll name him Torben.

There, I've done my husbandly duty and, thankfully, a miracle-worker offered to cure me.

I need to get out of Halland before she catches me again.

Killing some pagans will do the trick. I'll conquer Rugen, and anywhere else Uta isn't.

The plan was simple.

I hope my wife dies in a ice-fishing accident.

Nothing like cheating on my wife to show her who's boss.

Knud Knýtling, you're a genius.

I hate myself.

Is Torben a bastard? Did Knud sleep with his wife in vain? Will he conquer Rugan? Will Uta corner Knud again? All will be revealed next episode as we witness the final fate of Uta and the adventures of Knud Knýtling, Prince of Denmark, continue!
